It would be useless as well as criminal to deny that the situation throughout the country is far from being encouraging to the Republicans. In all the elections held within the past few weeks the party has lost ground.—Globe-Democrat.

PETER KNOWN, a barkeeper, died in New York, Sunday, from the effects of injuries received in a prize fight ten days ago with a man known as the "Jersey Spider." The fight was for a medal and under the auspices of the New York Pastime club.

At the election in Maine, Monday, the Republicans, by the liberal use of money, and stocking the Kittery navy yards with voters, were able to carry the state by an increased majority. T. H. Reed was re-elected to congress by about 4,700 plurality, and the state elected was elected by about 10,000 majority.

The Democratic majority in Arkansas will be close to 40,000 this year against 15,000 in '88. In Vermont the Republican majority of 28,000 in '88 is reduced to less than half these figures. It is a general stampede all along the line.

The county indebtedness of the United States shows an increase of 16 per cent in the past ten years. Kansas has the largest county indebtedness, Illinois second and Missouri third. Illinois and Missouri, however, are rapidly reducing their obligations while Kansas is increasing hers.

LET Republican farmers remember that the R-publican silver bill which has just been passed stops the coinage of the silver dollar from and after the first of July, next, and especially provides that the treasury notes to be issued on silver bullion shall not be used in the payment of the national bonded debt.

MILLS, in his speech at Mexico Mo., recently, grew vehement and truly eloquent when he said: "A bold wretch, occupying one of the highest positions in the government, who tramples under foot the rights of minorities and thanks God for the opportunity, has made of the people's representative body a military camp in which the subordinates get their orders daily. But that Saxon spirit which has dethroned kings and broken scepters will teach him the lesson which it has taught every usurper who has attempted to curb it."

MRS. POLLY BOYCE, aged forty, and a young man named Gustave Wolf have been arrested at Jefferson City, charged with sending obscene literature through the mails. The sending of the alleged obscene matter, which consisted of pictures and letters, appears to have been without motive, as it was sent indiscriminately to men, women, and children.

The Democrats of Linn county, Monday, nominated the following ticket: Representative, T. D. Evans; sheriff, Ed Barton; circuit clerk, A. L. Pratt; recorder, Thos. H. Flood; county clerk, J. H. Craig; treasurer, H. C. Prewett; county judges, C. W. Krumbe, Wm. Morehead and W. T. Elston; prosecuting attorney, T. M. Freshmech; coroner, A. J. Berry. More Democrats turned out than had been seen for years. The ticket is a winner.

GOVERNOR EAGLE will issue a proclamation calling a special election in the second Arkansas congressional district, to fill the vacancy caused by the ousting of Major C. R. Breckinridge by the Republican majority in the house. The date of the special election will be November 4, the time fixed for the regular election in all the congressional districts. Major Breckinridge is the Democratic candidate, and is opposed by Tom P. Langley, the Union Labor nominee. There are sixteen counties in the district. In the recent election Lincoln, Jefferson, Monroe, White, and Faulkner counties were carried by Fizer, the Union Labor and Republican candidate for governor, by a majority of 6,012. The majority for Eagle, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, in the remaining eleven counties in the district was 4,076, making an opposition majority in the district of nearly 2,000.

The scenes in the house of representatives, last week, were shockingly disgraceful and merit the severest condemnation of the American people. That body, which is supposed more nearly to represent the people than any other, was the theatre of proceedings vulgar and unparliamentary to the extreme, which finally culminated in a fist fight between Beckwith, of New Jersey, and Wilson of Washington. It may be said to the credit of the Democrats that the row was confined exclusively to the Republican members, and is a fitting finale to the administration of Speaker Reed which has been tyrannical, unbridled and frequently been characterized by conduct more becoming a clown than a speaker. Reed has thoroughly debauched the house and there can be no reform until he is displaced, as he will be in the next congress, by a Democratic speaker. Cannon of Illinois, a Republican of 18 years service, inaugurated the row by an expression so vulgar that the postal laws forbid its repetition in our columns. Mason of Illinois, another Republican, immediately proceeded to castigate and denounce Cannon in remarks which do not appear in the congressional record, among other things characterizing him to his face as a "liar and a tramp." This row between Cannon and Mason, both Republicans, was proceeding with growing heat, when attention was diverted from these belligerents, to Wilson and Beckwith, who, although not directly participants in the debate, had been drawn into the unseemly wrangle. They exchanged blows and in the effort to separate them, Williams, of Ohio, another Republican, got his eye blacked by one of the combatants. During the melee Speaker Reed for once lost his head completely and begged piteously for "order." By common consent of both Republicans and Democrats, this affair is conceded to be the most shameful that has ever disgraced the house of representatives.

A Comparison.

It appears from the careful and instructive statement of State Auditor Seibert, in his letter to Hon. A. M. Dockery, that when the Democratic party came into power in Missouri in January, 1873, the bonded debt of the state was $20,868,000—five sixths of it being railroad debt. The Republicans had managed, during their six years' term of control, to get rid of the lien on about $45,000,000 worth of railroad property for $6,000,000—and that left the bulk of the railroad debt yet unpaid. The Democratic party at once instituted a policy of debt-paying, and adhered to it under each successive administration, until on July 1, 1890, the bonded indebtedness of the state had been reduced to $8,582,000. This reduction of $12,286,000 has been accomplished without the sale of any property and without any increase of the tax rates. Indeed, it has been accompanied with a reduction in the state tax rate of one-third—for the rate in 1873 was 45 cents on the $100, and in 1890 it is only 30 cents.

The comparison between the six years of Republican rule, and the seventeen years of Democratic rule in Missouri therefore shows that the Republicans paid $6,000,000 of the state debt by giving up $45,000,000 worth of railroad property, and fixing the state rate of taxation for a portion of their term at 60 and 90 cents on the $100—and the Democrats paid $12,286,000 of the debt while diminishing the state tax rate from 45 to 30 cents on the $100, and without disposing of any state property whatever.—Baldwin.

$15 and Thirty Days.

In the case of the City of Keytesville vs. Elmer Williams and Henry Starks, Monday, mention of which is made elsewhere, Lon Wheeler, a worthy colored man, was a witness for the prosecution and Elmer Johnson, as worthless a negro vagabond as lives in the county, was a witness for the defense.

These witnesses contradicted each other on the stand, and the mayor seemed to place more credence in Wheeler's testimony than he did in Johnson's. Johnson, as soon as court adjourned, began to talk to Elmer Williams about what ought to be done to Lon Wheeler for testifying against him (Williams), and said "someone ought to crack his head with a stick." As Wheeler was going home, carrying a sack of flour on one shoulder and a piece of sidewalk under the other arm, he was approached by Elmer Williams, Elmer Johnson, and Dave Pulliam, and with a few words Johnson struck Wheeler in the face with either a rock or a heavy club, cutting a gash on the side of his nose and bruising his face considerably. The three parties were promptly arrested by Marshal Veach and lodged in the calaboose.

Tuesday they were taken before Mayor Scott for trial. The evidence did not in any wise connect young Pulliam with the assault, and he was accordingly discharged. Williams and Johnson were found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and costs each and to serve a term of thirty days working on the streets.

The articles saved out of Mr. Wright's store have since been placed in the Morrow building, where he is still in business. Since the fire, Charles West has placed a stock of goods in the Howard house, where he still intends to carry a large stock of drygoods and groceries. So we see that Westville is back to the same old seven and six.

Acme Harrow and Pulverizer.

Durability. The frame is constructed entirely of wrought iron and wood, not an ounce of cast iron being used in the works, parts, and as there are no joints, or other weak parts, it may be said to be practically indestructible. The casters are made of Cast Steel and are tapered in all. Easily managed. A lever within reach of the driver, which is held in position by means of a ratchet, enables the operator to control the position of the harrow at the same time, raise or depress the harrow to regulate the depth of work, so that any boy competent to manage a team can operate the harrow with ease.

Light weight. Owing to the close of material used (steel, wrought iron, and wood), the greatest strength is secured with lightest possible weight. "Will it pay?" The profit derived from the use of the "Acme" is not alone in the saving of labor and time, but in the thoroughness of the work accomplished by it. It is well known that thorough pulverization pays by increasing the yield, and without doubt the "Acme" harrow will pay for itself on any two-acre field in the saving of labor and in the increase of the crop.

What is it used for? For all purposes where a harrow is needed, but especially for hard clay, inverted soil, summer fallow, soil that has been packed and baked after plowing, for covering grain as well as potato seed, for the cultivation of listed corn, etc. It is a safe bet to suppose that the "Acme" Pulverizing Harrow, "Old Crusher" and "Leveler" is adapted only to special work. It is a general-purpose harrow. A prominent farmer writes: "There is no work that any harrow does that the 'Acme' Pulverizing Harrow will not do as well, or better, while the 'Acme' pays for itself every season in work that no other harrow can do. I make this assertion with more confidence because my neighbors who use Disk and spring-harrow are constantly borrowing my 'Acme'."

Another farmer writes: "I think the 'Acme' is the only harrow that will finish up its work and leave the ground in perfect order. Other harrows dig up the ground, but do not give it the finishing touch that the 'Acme' does."

The Rev. Mr. Taylor says of the "Acme" Pulverizing Harrow, "Old Crusher and Leveler": "For preparing the surface of the soil, pulverizing it and fitting it for the seed, there is no tool that will compare with the 'Acme'."

The "Acme" is not only the best but is also the cheapest and fastest pulling harrow on earth.

WARRANTY. I hereby warrant each and every part of each and every "Acme" Harrow against breakage for the term of one season after it leaves the manufacturing or sales agency. If a defect is discovered, immediate notice must be given to me or my agent, and sufficient time allowed for putting in order; if then the harrow proves permanently defective, the money will be refunded or a new one furnished, at the option of the purchaser. Continued possession of the harrow will be evidence of satisfaction.

FL ANNUAL - LL

This ends the first year of our successful enterprise in Salisbury. 12 months ago we located here and opened up one of the most complete lines of Clothing and Gents Furnishings, ever shown in Chariton County. But it was not until we visited and investigated many other towns in this State before we cast our lot in the Eden of Missouri. We have a prosperous town, and a prosperous community. A country is what the people make it, and we propose to Keep up our End of the Row.

Our sales this year have been far beyond our most sanguine expectations, and we feel deeply gratified by the substantial way in which the people have shown their appreciations of our efforts to furnish a long felt want in this community. We now know the wants of our trade, and be assured that we will spare neither time nor money in making this the most complete, the most attractive, and the best line of Clothing for the money to be found in this county. This year we have

which is evidence that a Clothing House which sells good goods and at small margins can thrive in Salisbury and the rapid increase of our trade and the demands of the people for our FINE CLOTHING is testimony that can not be overcome by a Peanut Clothing Stand. This is the place to see the largest Stock of Clothing ever shown in Chariton County. Our line consists of Men's and Boys' Wear Complete.

We can fit the smallest boy or the largest man. If you want an overcoat or a suit of clothes remember it is as much to your interest as it is ours for you to come and see us. We will give you the same grade of goods for less money than you can buy them for elsewhere. We have never seen our prices beaten, and you will have the same experience when you investigate the matter. We are strictly which of itself is a guarantee, for we could not afford to ask 5 cents too much, if we did we could not expect to sell to you. We want your trade. For we feel we can make it mutually beneficial, for you to trade with us.
